

Supporting Us

Every Queensland child has the right to health and wellbeing education.

At least 1 in 4 children will take an illegal drug by the age of 16.

25%

of children aged 5 - 17 years are obese or overweight.

1 in 4

children have been approached by a stranger online.

From cyberbullying and online safety to the obesity crisis, Queensland children urgently need your support to face these new and emerging threats.

Life Education Queensland self-funds the delivery of our health and wellbeing program through fundraising, donations and community partnerships.

Workplace Giving

A small way to make a big difference in the lives of Queensland kids.

For Employers

Your decision to choose Life Education Queensland as a charity partner for your organisation will make a big difference in the lives of our children and young people.

By supporting us, your organisation is making a solid investment in the future of Queensland children by providing them with the skills and knowledge they need to make safer and healthier life choices.

Life Education Queensland is registered with workplace giving platform Good2Give. If do not currently use Good2Give for workplace giving, you can register your company quickly and easily via good2give.ngo.

It's easy to add Life Education Queensland as a charity partner to your organisation.

About Workplace Giving

It doesn't take much to make a difference. Supporting Life Education Queensland via workplace giving is a simple way to help Queensland kids.

Workplace giving programs enable employees to nominate their preferred charity and donate an amount of their choosing directly from their pre-tax earnings at each pay interval.

As workplace giving donations are deducted from your pre-tax pay, the tax benefit to the employee is immediate - you don't need to keep any records or receipts to claim your benefit at tax time.

Don't forget to ask your employer if they will match your donation each month - double the donation has twice the impact!

For Employees

It is easy to set-up and as your donation is deducted from your pre-tax pay, you are able to give more for less!

If your employer already has a Workplace Giving program, simply complete the authority form nominating Life Education Queensland as your chosen charity. Alternatively, if your workplace uses the Good2Give Workplace Giving platform, simply request your login details to set up your donation online. If your employer doesn't have one set up, simply hand this flyer to your payroll officer.

Workplace Giving is one of the most effective ways to support Life Education Queensland.
